

What is NACO?

Organized in 1894, the Nebraska Association of County Officials is a non-profit organization whose membership is comprised of the 93 Nebraska counties and the elected and appointed officials within each of these local divisions of government.

The express objective of NACO is to stimulate and contribute to the continued improvement of county government in Nebraska through the promotion of increased efficiency and economy, the augmentation of a higher standard of public service, and the protection of the common good and general welfare of Nebraska county residents.
